

POETRY.

LIGHT FOR ALL.

BY J. SKEENE.

You cannot pay with money
The million sons of toil—
The sailor on the ocean,
The peasant on the soil,
The laborer in the quarry,
The hewer of the coal;
Your money pays the hand,
But it cannot pay the soul.

You gaze on the cathedral
Whose turrets meet the sky;
Remember the foundations
That in earth and darkness lie;
For were not those foundations
So deeply resting there,
Yon towers could never soar up
So proudly in the air.

The workshop must be crowded
That the palace may be bright,
If the ploughman did not plough,
Then the poet could not write.
Then let every toil be hallowed
That man performs for man,
And have its share of honor,
As part of one great plan.

See, light darts down from heaven,
And enters where it may;
The eyes of all earth's people
Are cheered with one bright day,
And let the mind's true sunshine
Be spread o'er earth as free,
And fill the souls of men,
As the water fills the sea.

The man who turns the soil
Need not have an earthly mind,
The digger 'mid the coal
Need not be in spirit blind;

The mind can shed a light
On each worthy labor done,
As lowliest things are bright
In the radiance of the sun.

The tailor, ay, the cobbler,
May lift their heas as men—
Better far than Alexander,
Could he wake to life again,

And think of all his bloodshed,
(And all for nothing too!)
And ask himself—"What made I
As useful as a sheep?"

What cheers the musing student,
The poet, the divine?

The thought that for his followers
A brighter day will shine.

Let every human laborer
Enjoy the vision bright—

Let the thought that comes from heaven
Be spread like heaven's own light!

Ye men who hold the pen,
Rise like a band inspired,
And poets, let your lyrics
With hope for man be fired;

Till the earth becomes a temple,
And every human heart

Shall join in one great service,
Each happy in his part.

THE WIND.

The wind is a bachelor,
Merry and free;
He loves at his pleasure
O'er land and o'er sea;
He ruffles the lake,
And he kisses the flower,
And he sleeps when he lists
In a jasmine bower.

He gives to the cheek
Of the maiden its bloom,
He tastes her warm kisses,
Enjoys thir perfume,
But, trout-like, often
The sweets that he sips
Are lavished next moment
On loyler lips.

PROSPECTUS OR THE

CONGRESSIONAL JOURNAL.

The editors of the "United States Journal" propose to commence, with the next session of Congress, a weekly publication under the above title, to continue through the whole session, at the unprecedented low price of

to each subscriber for a volume of five hundred pages!

It will contain a faithful and impartial record of both Houses of Congress, the gist of all the important speeches which may be delivered, &c. &c. The most competent reporters will be employed and nothing shall prevent it being made worthy of the patronage of the public generally. The Journal will endeavor, in its records, to do justice to both parties, so that both parties will feel allowed to patronize the publication. It is being the long session as it is called, the volume will contain at least 500 pages, each number will contain sixteen pages of solid matter, which will enable the publishers to give all the proceedings worthy of being preserved in book form, for будущий and future reference.—The exceedingly low terms will place it within the reach of all; the publishers hope that their friends will use their exertions in obtaining subscribers.

DR. WISTAR'S BALM OF WILD CHERRY.

In the first stages of disease, termed "Catarrhal Consumption," originating from neglected colds, it has been used with undeviating success, and hundreds acknowledge that they owe the restoration of their health to this invaluable medicine alone. In that form of consumption so prevalent among delicate young females, commonly termed debility, or going into a decline, a complaint with which thousands are lingering, it has also proved highly successful, and not only possesses the power of checking the progress of this alarming disease, but also strengthens and invigorates the system more effectually than any other medicine we have ever possessed. Besides its surpassing efficacy in consumption, it is equally efficacious in influenza, liver complaint, asthma, bronchitis, and all affections of the lungs, and has cured many of the most obstinate cases, after every other remedy has failed. For sale by C. Chapman.

As the Indian formerly roamed over the mountains of Peru, unconscious of the vast wealth that lay hidden beneath its surface; so, till lately, have we strolled through our native forests, ignorant of the fact that they contain ingredients which, in hands skilled by study and experience, form by far the most efficacious remedy for all kinds of pulmonary and Liver affections known to the world; yet this is true. Wild Cherry bark and Tar have indeed been used before, but their virtues could not be fully appreciated, because they were not fully extracted. Dr. Wistar has done this—and his Balsam of Wild Cherry (which contains also an extract of Tar) is astonishing every body, especially the M.D.'s, by its wonderful efficacy in Asthma, Liver complaints, Consumption, etc. This Balsam is made from materials which nature has placed in all northern latitudes as an antidote for diseases caused by cold climates.

"Nature is but the name for an effect
Whose cause is God."

Let us not neglect her plainest dictates, Always be sure to get the genuine article, as spurious "Balsams" etc., are afloat.

Temperance House.

THE SUBSCRIBER has opened a Temperance House which he will keep on, on the South side of the Park in Woodstock, where P. G. ALLEN, his son, has a residence, and will be the manager of those who wish to subscribe to the temperance cause, and he will endeavor to merit that patronage to the extent of his abilities. The buildings are sufficiently spacious to accommodate travellers and their teams to almost any extent. The subscriber indulges a hope, that it will not be long before he will be enabled to afford to call upon him by reason of the deficient accommodation, nor that he can furnish sufficient accommodations because there is no custom to support it.

TO THE PUBLIC.

CALVIN P. NEWTON, successor to J. Newton, Informs his numerous friends in Norwich and vicinity, that he has returned to Woodstock, where he will soon have on hand a constant supply of medicines of his own manufacture.

The complaints heretofore made of Adulteration in these excellent articles, formerly prepared by himself, my new cause—it those interested will buy at the right place.

The above medicines are sold at C. CHAPMAN'S 24th St.

TO J.L. THE WORLD WHO USE LEATHER IN ANY FORM.

OLE OF TANNIN, OR, LEATHER RESTORER.

A New Chemical Discovery.

Most people know, that skins and hides are converted into leather by the use of Tannin extracted from certain bark &c.

When the force and strength of the Tannin is wanting, leather becomes dead, hard, dry, brittle, cracked, and easily torn, and is of little value. To restore it, fat, oil, soft soap, castor oil, turpentine, resin, etc., and remove all crooked, or blistered—restores the tan.

This substance the leather never can receive the second time but the whole virtue of it is lost in this article the Oleum Tanninum. It penetrates the skin and holds it fast, easily, firmly, and tenaciously, so that the leather, when it has been worn, wears well, and retains its original strength until seen. It becomes like new leather, in all respects, with a delightful softness, and becomes like new leather, in all respects, and nothing can be done to it, but to call upon him by reason of the deficient accommodation, nor that he can furnish sufficient accommodations because there is no custom to support it.

GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

THE Great and only remedy for Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption, is the Hungarian Balsom of Life, discovered by the celebrated Dr. Rymer of London, England and introduced into the United States on the invitation of the American Agents.

The extraordinary success of this medicine, in the cure of Pulmonary diseases, warrants the American Agent in soliciting for treatment the WORLD POSSIBLE CASES that can be found in the community—cases that will reflect upon humanity the highest commendations, if the agents have the right to say, by the most distinguished Physicians, as confined and incurable. The Hungarian Balsom has cured and will cure the most desperate of cases. It is no quack nostrum, but a sound English medicine, known and celebrated, etc. etc.

Even the physicians of the United States should be supplied with Buchan's Hungarian Balsom of Life, not only to counteract the consumptive tendencies of the climate, but to be used as a preventive medicine in all cases of colds, coughs, spitting of Blood, Phthisis, the child and elder Physicians, and the best General Practitioners.
